

REWARDING CAREERS

KATE MADDISON-GREENWELL

HEAD OF EMPLOYABILITY, SKILLS AND LEARNING (ESL)

Having been in recruitment for 10 years, I joined Gi Group in 2006 as an Account Manager for one of their biggest Manufacturing sites – BMW MINI Plant in Oxford.

I was attracted to Gi Group because of their strong business ethics and commitment to exceeding a client's expectations and fulfilling their needs by adding value adds pro-actively, instead of waiting to see what the client asks for. This is one of the reasons I believe we win the big clients, and more importantly – keep them! After two years, I relocated to Sheffield to look after another big client, and was soon promoted to Regional Account Manager. Over the following three years my region developed – as did I. I have had the opportunity to complete an external CIPD course, again with invaluable support from Gi Group.

In 2015, I was appointed Head of Gi Group UK's new division – Employability, Skills and Learning (ESL).

The creation of this division was a natural 'next step' following the company's success in the development of its Apprenticeship Training programme in which I had played a key role.

I would recommend Gi Group to anyone who wants to work hard and reap the benefits of a supportive company, competitive salary and good career progression for their effort.
