ACCOUNT CONSULTANT, BRANCH NETWORK

Before I joined the Gi Group I worked in several call centres (Fortis Insurance & Aviva) and also in the building industry as a labourer.

I initially joined the Gi Group as a temporary worker in the Eastleigh branch in 2004, and then transferred to the Southampton branch in the same year. In 2005 I became a permanent member of staff and my first role was supporting the NHS contract. Following that role I joined the CooperVision account team where I am today as the Account Consultant.

I love my current role because I am able to develop and grow the great relationship we have with the client. I am also able to help out people from all walks of life that are looking for work and feel that I can, and do, make a difference to people lives.

It is a great feeling when one of our flexible employees goes permanent with our client and comes back to thank you for giving them a chance; or your client phones you up to say thank you for supplying them with a great worker.
