1. Time Records and Pay

Timesheets

- 1.1 Before each assignment you will usually be issued with an individual timesheet which will be renewed on a weekly basis.
- 1.2 Each week, simply follow any clocking in and out procedures required by the Client, enter the hours you work on the timesheet, have this signed by an authorised representative of the Client and return it to your Gi Group branch by no later than 6.00pm on the Friday of the assignment week (or by special arrangement with your Gi Group branch). If the procedure is not followed there may be a delay in processing your pay.
- 1.3 Alternatively, you may be asked to use multi-timesheets, attendance sheets, swipe cards or some other method to record your start/break/finish times. In some cases, you will also be asked to register your department and/or category of work. Full instructions will be provided by your Gi Group branch. With these alternative methods your pay information is processed automatically so you don't need to complete a separate timesheet. Remember, though, it is your responsibility to follow the correct procedures and failure to do so may result in delay or error in processing your pay.

Hours of work

- 1.4 The anticipated hours of work applicable to any assignment will be notified to you in advance of the assignment. In terms of the Working Time Regulations 1998 you are entitled to a break of 20 minutes if you work more than six hours on a continuous basis. If whilst working with a Client you are not provided with your statutory rest breaks, you should raise this immediately with your Gi Group branch. If your assignment is subject to the Road Transport (Working Time) Regulations 2005 you may not exceed six hours Working Time without taking a break of at least 15 minutes. You must have taken no less than 30 minutes break after working for 9 hours and must take an additional 15 minutes after 9 hours work.

Timekeeping

- 1.5 Punctuality is very important. On the first day of an assignment we recommend that you always allow for unexpected delays and aim to arrive 15 minutes early. If you anticipate being late at any time, contact your Gi Group branch immediately.

Overtime

- 1.6 Overtime is not guaranteed and if it is offered there is no obligation on you to accept it. Overtime is not covered by any guaranteed working hours provisions and does not form part of normal working hours. Overtime will not form any part of the calculations on holiday pay entitlement.

Absence from work

- 1.7 If you are absent from work for any reason you must inform your Gi Group branch no less than 1 hour prior to the commencement of your agreed start time on your first day of absence and on any subsequent days of absence. Full details can be found in the absence policy provided to you on commencement of your assignment.
- 1.8 Absence for holidays, Jury Service, Military Service or other reasons should be agreed in advance with your Gi Group branch who will advise you of the procedure to be followed.
- 1.9 You should try to ensure that, wherever possible, any medical or dental appointments are made outside your normal working hours.

Holidays

- 1.10 For the purposes of calculating entitlement to paid annual leave pursuant to the Working Time Regulations 1998 the holiday year is the calendar year. If your employment begins or ends part way through the holiday year your holiday entitlement for that year will be assessed on a pro rata basis.
- 1.11 You are entitled to paid annual leave of the statutory minimum entitlement under the Working Time Regulations 1998. The current statutory entitlement to paid annual leave under the Working Time Regulations is 5.6 weeks (pro rated for part-time or shift workers).
- 1.12 Under the Agency Workers Regulations you may be entitled to unpaid annual leave in addition to your entitlement to paid annual leave under the Working Time Regulations. If this is the case, any such entitlement(s) and the date from which any such entitlement(s) will commence will be as set out in the relevant Assignment Information or any amendment thereto.
- 1.13 You may only take paid holiday to the extent that you have accrued it by your period of continuous work on any assignment. One week's holiday pay is an average of the previous 12 worked weeks remuneration. Your normal working hours will be advised to you at the start of each assignment.
- The appropriate notice should be given by the Flexible Employee for the request of holidays which will usually be twice as long as the length of absence required. For example if you want 1 weeks holiday then you should request that holiday at least 2 weeks in advance. There may be different requirements depending on your assignment and this will be explained at the point your assignment commences.
- 1.14 Unless stated otherwise in the Assignment Information, if you wish to take paid annual leave you should request such annual leave in writing from the Company, setting out the dates of your intended absence providing notice of at least twice the length of the period of leave that you wish to take. The Company may accept or decline your request depending on the operational requirements of the Client for whom you are carrying out an Assignment. Following any booking of annual leave, the Company may give a counter-notice to you to postpone or reduce the amount of leave that you wish to take and unless stated otherwise in the Assignment Information, in such circumstances the Company will inform you in writing giving at least the same length of notice as the period of leave that it wishes to postpone or reduce it by. The Company reserves the right to ask you to take annual leave at times convenient to its business and that of its Clients. If the Client operates a shutdown period you may be required to take a portion of your holiday during any such shutdown period.
- 1.15 Subject to clause 1.12 and unless otherwise stated in the Assignment Information, during the first 12 months of employment your entitlement to paid annual leave shall accrue in proportion to the length of your employment. The amount of payment which you will receive in respect of periods of annual leave will be calculated on the basis that one week's holiday pay is an average of the previous 12 worked weeks remuneration in accordance with the statutory requirements. You may not take more than 2 weeks' holiday in any one month period, nor may you during your first 12 months of employment take holiday, which has not accrued.
- 1.16 Save where this clause is amended by the Assignment Information, where a bank holiday or other public holiday falls on a working day and you do not work on that day, then subject to you having accrued entitlement to payment for leave in accordance with clause 1.15 (or clause 1.12, if applicable), that day shall count as part of your paid annual leave entitlement.

1.17 Upon termination of your employment, your holiday entitlement for that leave year shall be in direct proportion to the period employed in that leave year and you shall be paid in lieu of any holiday entitlement that was accrued but not taken at the date of termination of employment, or, as the case may be, you shall repay to the Company an amount in respect of any holiday periods taken in excess of your holiday entitlement for that year and you hereby authorise the Company to take repayment of such monies by way of deduction from any final payment owed to you.

Sickness

1.18 If you are sick for more than three days, subject to certain conditions, you may be entitled to Statutory Sick Pay. Details are contained in your terms of employment.

Your pay

1.19 We know how important it is to be paid promptly so, provided the appropriate timesheet procedures have been completed and returned to us as instructed, you will be paid directly by credit transfer into your bank or building society account on the Friday following the week you worked. Full payment details will appear on your pay advice slip.

Tax and National Insurance

1.20 We have a legal obligation to deduct PAYE and NIC from your pay. To avoid paying more tax than necessary or to avoid delays in processing your pay, we must receive your P45, P46 or a P38(s) along with your National Insurance number before you start any assignment. If you do not pay PAYE and NIC in the usual way, special arrangements must be made through your Gi Group branch.

1.21 Once you have supplied us with your tax documents, and commenced working, any queries relating to your tax code should be directed to the HMRC office shown on any correspondence received.

- 5.2 A copy of the Dignity at Work Policy is available from your Gi Group branch.

6. Public Interest Disclosure

- 6.1 You can obtain a copy of the Public Interest Disclosure Policy from your Gi Group branch. In the first instance any concerns should be raised with your Gi Group consultant or if this is not practicable with a Director.

- 8.3 If you have a concern or complaint relating to your employment you should raise the matter under the Grievance Procedure.

9. Disciplinary Policy and Procedure

- 9.1 The purpose of the disciplinary policy is to ensure that Gi Group behaves fairly and consistently towards all employees in investigating and dealing with alleged instances of unacceptable conduct or performance. To promote that purpose Gi Group has developed a procedure for disciplinary matters. The procedure is a guide, not a rule. It is not contractual. Gi Group reserves the right to depart from the precise components of its disciplinary procedure where it is appropriate to do so.
- 9.2 All cases of misconduct or poor performance must be dealt with in accordance with a fair procedure.

The aims of the policy are:

- To be consistent in the treatment of comparable cases.
 - To allow for careful investigation before penalties are applied.
 - To aim to correct behaviour where possible.
 - To deal rapidly and effectively with misconduct and incapability.
 - To be fair to all employees at all levels of the organisation in disciplinary matters.
- 9.3 This policy is applicable to all Gi Group employees. It is not contractual and does not form part of your terms of employment. It may be varied by Gi Group from time to time.

Procedure

9.4 Informal Stage

- 9.4.1 In some instances Gi Group may consider that there is no need to take formal disciplinary action, and that it is sufficient to counsel you where conduct or capability are considered to be unsatisfactory. Such counselling will still be documented in your personnel records.

9.5 Formal Stage

- 9.5.1 When disciplinary matters require a hearing to be held 48 hours' notice of the hearing will be given wherever practicable and those concerned will be informed in advance of the matter to be discussed. You will receive a letter inviting you to attend the disciplinary hearing. This letter will set out the matters to be discussed at the hearing.
- 9.6 At any formal disciplinary hearing, you have the right to be accompanied by a Gi Group flexible employee or Trade Union representative. You will be entitled to hear details of any complaint made, and to examine any relevant documents prior to the disciplinary hearing. You will be given an opportunity to respond to the matters raised prior to a final decision being made. At the conclusion of each stage, you will be given a letter recording the outcome of the hearing and the means of appeal.

- 9.7 No disciplinary sanction will be imposed on you until the case has been investigated.
- 9.8 You may be suspended with pay pending the conclusion of the investigation and/or disciplinary procedure, without prejudice.
- 9.9 You will not normally be dismissed for a first breach of discipline except in the case of gross misconduct. The penalty for gross misconduct may be dismissal without notice and without payment in lieu of notice.
- 9.10 You will have the right to appeal against any disciplinary penalty imposed.
- 9.11 Your Gi Group branch manager or an appropriate Gi Group representative will conduct the disciplinary hearing. Your Gi Group branch manager will then make the decision on the level of disciplinary action to be taken.
- 9.12 All cases of disciplinary action under this procedure will be recorded and placed in Gi Group's records. A copy of Gi Group's relevant records will be supplied at your request.
- 9.13 The following procedural stages apply to offences other than gross misconduct. Gi Group, however, reserves the right to enter this process at any stage:
- 9.14 Stage 1 - Formal verbal warning
- 9.14.1 If conduct or performance (in terms of output or quality) does not meet acceptable standards, you will normally be given a formal verbal warning in the first instance. The warning will remain on your file for 6 months with details of the action(s) required to rectify the misconduct or poor performance and that it constitutes the first formal stage of the disciplinary procedure. A letter informing you of the verbal warning and the reasons for it being issued will be sent to you and kept on your personnel file at Gi Group.
- 9.15 Stage 2 - First written warning
- 9.15.1 If the offence is a serious one, or if there is a further occurrence of a minor offence, then a first written warning will be given to you. A first written warning can also be given for an accumulation of minor offences for which a verbal warning may not have already been issued. Warnings may run concurrently if for different reasons, e.g. one for misconduct and another for poor performance. Such a warning will set out the precise details of the offence and the improvement in conduct or performance required and the time scale if applicable. It will also set out the likely consequences of further offences and what action will be considered if there is no satisfactory improvement. A letter informing you of the first written warning will be sent to you. The written warning will remain on your personnel file for 12 months.
- 9.16 Stage 3 - Final written warning
- 9.16.1 If there is still a failure to improve conduct and/or performance and these remain unsatisfactory, or alternatively if the misconduct is sufficiently serious to warrant only one final written warning (but insufficient to justify dismissal) then a final written warning will be issued to you. The warning will, if appropriate, refer to any previous disciplinary action and will state the consequences of failure to improve as required. The warning will remain on your personnel file for 12 months. A letter informing you of the final written warning will be sent to you and a copy kept on your personnel file at Gi Group.
- 9.17 Stage 4 - Dismissal
- 9.17.1 If conduct and/or performance remains unsatisfactory and you still fail to reach the prescribed standards then dismissal will normally result. This stage of the disciplinary procedure will normally be carried out by a Gi Group Manager. The reason(s) for dismissal will be specified and communicated to you and where appropriate, reference will be made to any previous disciplinary action taken. The dismissal notice will indicate the effective date of termination of employment together with the right of appeal. Dismissal at this stage will normally be with notice or pay in lieu of notice. A letter informing you of the termination of employment will be sent to you and kept on your personnel file at Gi Group.

9.18 Demotion

9.18.1 Gi Group may use demotion as part of the disciplinary procedure. This may be instead of or as well as any of stages 1-4 as listed above.

9.18.2 The following list provides examples of offences, which are normally regarded as gross misconduct. This list indicates the type of offences that constitute gross misconduct but is not exhaustive. An act of gross misconduct will normally warrant summary dismissal without the normal period of notice or payment in lieu of notice.

9.19 Appeal procedure

- 9.19.1 If you have been given a formal warning or have been dismissed with or without notice you will be entitled to appeal to the next level of management.
- 9.19.2 Appeals must be lodged with Gi Group within five working days of receipt of any formal warning or notice of dismissal.
- 9.19.3 If your warning was issued by the Gi Group branch, you should lodge your appeal in writing within 5 days. Reasons for the appeal must be stated. Mere disagreement with the disciplinary action taken will not be considered as a suitable basis for an appeal.

- 9.19.5 Please note that this appeals procedure relates specifically to the outcome of a disciplinary hearing and must not be confused with the grievance procedure, which relates to concerns raised by you about your job.

If you have an accident, get first aid treatment immediately. The smallest cut, if neglected, could result in infection.

13.2 You must ensure that you do not render any fire escape or fire escape routes at the site unavailable for emergency use, nor cause any obstruction at any time to any staircases, passages, walkways, entrances and exits or any other part of the site.

You should also make sure that the screen is clean and the focus, brightness and contrast is adjusted to give the best picture quality. Your seating position is also important and this means having your back supported and as near to vertical as possible.
- 15.2 HSE Guidance suggests that you take periodic breaks from the VDU. This does not mean that you have to stop work. The recommendation is that you take time out from using the screen every one to two hours. It is stressed that frequent short breaks are better than occasional longer ones.
- 15.3 If you feel that you are having health problems associated with the use of your computer you should in the first instance discuss this with the Client and inform Gi Group immediately. You will need to keep Gi Group informed as to feedback from the Client and any actions taken.

16. Manual Handling

- 16.1 Manual handling regulations cover the tasks which involve supporting or transporting loads by physical human effort. You should familiarise yourself with good handling techniques as hazards are not only presented by heavy loads. There is no particular maximum weight specified in the regulations, which recognise the fact that whilst weight is evidently a significant factor, there are other considerations of equal importance.
- 16.2 You should think about the following points if you have to do any lifting
- Plan the lift. What is the best way to get the load from A to B?
 - Get help if the load is beyond your capability or awkward. If you are in any doubt about the lift you are about to attempt, seek help and advice from your line manager at the client.
 - Always use appropriate handling equipment such as trolleys, wheels, ramps and hoists.
 - Always use appropriate personal equipment such as safety shoes, gloves, overalls and eye protection.
 - Prepare the handling area and watch for hazards such as constraints on posture, uneven or slippery floors, variations in levels, hot/cold/humid conditions or strong air movements. Improve these factors as far as it is reasonably practical.
 - Remove obstructions and ensure that you can see over the load when carrying it.
 - Ensure you are balanced properly for lifting by positioning the feet apart, one foot pointing away from the other and slightly in front with you weight balanced between them.
 - Take a comfortable hand hold, using the palm or surface of your hand and fingers. Keep elbows tucked into the sides of your body.
 - Adopt a good posture, bend the knees using them to lift, and keep the back straight during the lift. Get a firm grip on the load before lifting.
 - Keep the load close to your body.

- Lift smoothly trying not to jerk.
- If necessary lift by easy stages, re-adjusting your lifting posture accordingly.
- Do not twist your body when turning to the side.
- Put the load down before adjusting it to the desired position.

The above is general guidance. If you feel you need more or specific information regarding manual handling, please contact your Gi Group branch.
